Please take a minute to click on any of the titles above to view the book cover and look over the Amazon page, including the reviews. These titles are very popular, by the Permission of Allah, and they generally sell quite well. One of the reasons for that is that all the titles above (with the exception of the last one, "Questions from the West...") have free online MP3 recordings for learners to use for their study. These are accessed by following directions provided in the introductions of the workbooks. They may also be used when studying the text from other recordings or classes.
